This and opposite page, clockwise from right: Nature light from the courtyard wrap the dramatic lobby entrance dotted with pillars. The study room of the Winter Palace restaurant reinterprets Chinese architecture with dark, warm woods, and modern furniture; and in the lobby bar, frolicking crystal beads create an interpretation of a Beijing Opera face mask, emphasizing human connection.

This and opposite page, clockwise, from far left: Wood chairs and carved and painted screens that double as wall panels merge this hotel's rich tradition in a private dining space; chrome metal screens and full-height representations of Chinese ink paintings grace the executive lounge; the soaring timber-trimmed lobby; and the calming Sixth of November scene.
